

Good Earth / Good Eats

Experience the connections between people, the earth and the food we eat!

Skill Building Classes

Beekeeping

Saturday, July 10: 9 - Noon

$25 ($35 w/12:30 lunch)

Learn how to relate to and care for bees as well as about their importance in the environment. Led by Marion Ackman, who has kept bees for 47 years, and Andrew Kartel, State Inspector with 30 years beekeeping experience.

Cheese-making

Saturday July 24, 9 am-5:30 pm

$75 Includes lunch

Joanne Miller has been making cheese, and kombucha for years. Joanne will give us hands-on experience with making yogurt, fromage blanc, ricotta and mozzarella cheese. We will also make kombucha (a fermented tea beverage). Take home some materials for making cheese and kombucha at home.

Canning

Sunday, August 29: 1:30 - 4:30

$25 ($35 w/12:30 lunch)

Fall is prime canning season – learn how to preserve food using both a water bath process and a pressure canner. Barbara Fath, who has been canning for over 50 years (since she was a kid!), will provide an orientation to canning and demonstrate both methods. Bring your questions!

Holiday Baking

Sunday, November 7: 1:30 - 4:30

$25 ($35 w/12:30 lunch)

Learn to make delicious and healthy holiday baked goods that the whole family will love with Amanda Heisler, one of Grailville's cooks and an enthusiastic baker, and her aunt Elizabeth. Bring your questions and an apron!

Arts Feasts

Good Earth, Good Art

Sunday, June 13

A landscape show by fiber artist Rebecca Hill of Grailville and painter Diane Debevec including a raw foods "cooking" presentation by culinary artist Tracy Jo Duckworth (3:30 pm, Free). Then join us for dinner: A Summer Feast - Grailville's Summer Sunday Supper begins at 5:30 pm ($15/$10 child; reservations required).

A Celebration of the Great Outdoors

Sunday September 26

Great Outdoor Weekend

Come out into the Great Outdoor Weekend with garden tours, hayrides and a Grailville Growers presentation. "American Celtic" artist Cindy Matyi and ceramic artist Pam Korte will be on hand for the opening reception of their art made for and from the earth (3:30 pm, Free). Followed by a Harvest Feast - Grailville's Fall Sunday Supper begins at 5:30 pm ($15/$10 child; reservations required).

Grailville Retreat and Program Center

932 O'Bannonville Rd, Loveland OH 45140

513-683-2340 or www.grailville.org for information or to register.